David I The King Who

The Character of King David

But David his tens of thousands" (1 Sam 18 6-9) This sort of thing aroused the jealousy of Saul who thereupon made various attempts to take David's life One of these schemes was to make David the king's son-in-law on condition that he should first slay a hundred Philistines This David accomplished

dDAVID – A SINNER AFTER GOD'S HEART Introduction

I shall talk about King David, from the books of 1 and 2 Samuel Recall from Wayne's talks in July that after the anarchy of the Judges period, the Israelites asked God for a king "like the other nations" Although God through Samuel counselled against this, he nevertheless led Samuel to anoint Saul But Saul displeased God and God sent Samuel to anoint the shepherd boy David instead

An Exposition of 1 & 2 Samuel on Decision-Making and Power

Even though Saul was focused on killing David, the future King made the choice numerous times to spare Saul's life out of humility for his own station in life, referential respect for the authority and office of the monarch, and the internal guidance of the Holy Spirit Eventually, Samuel, Saul, and his three sons Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua (1 Samuel 31: 2-9) all die, and David
